Precipitates a Baltimore and Ohio Train Into the Stream Below.

TWO MEN PERISH IN THE FLAMES.

Several of the Train Hands Make Their Escape by Jumping.

ALL THE NEWS FROM NEAR-BY TOWNS

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

WHEELING, April 1 .- One of the most disastrous wrecks ever occurring on the line of the Baltimore and Chio road happened about 2:30 o'clock this morning at the bridge across Hart's run, five miles from Cameron, in Marshall county. Freight train No. 88, in charge of Conductor William Dean and Brakeman "Bud" Very, with Engineer Dominick Kelly and Fireman John Chaddock in the cab, was running west at about 25 miles an hour.

Just east of the bridge over Hart's run is s sharp curve, and as the train rounded this, Engineer Kelly, looking ahead, saw the bridge was a mass of flames. Realizing that he was too close to hope to stop his train, the engineer pulled the throttle wide open in the stermination to dash his train across, trusting to appearances, which in his mind indicated that the timbers were still strong enough to stand the strain. Just as the train took on the ncreased speed, Conductor Dean and Brakeman Very jumped off, the latter sustaining serious, but not fatal injuries.

The train dashed on to the bridge, and the engine ran across safely, but just as it reached solid earth on the west side the bridge col-lapsed, and the long train fell with it into the deep bed of the stream. Fortunately the draw bar connecting the tender with the first carbroke under the strain, and the engine re-mained on the track with its lucky occupants, but 17 cars made the descent. These took fire, but 17 cars made the descent. These took fire, and in a short time were consumed. Three tramps shiling from Philadelphia were locked in one of the cars, and were carried down with the wreck. As the cars took fire the most awful screams and yells proceeded from the imprisoned men, who seemed to be thoroughly conclous of the hopelessness of their position. The efforts of the trainmen were turned to the poor unfortunates, but they were pinned down by fragments of timbers and freight, and while one was rescued the two others were roasted to death. The names of the men could not be learned. The loss to the railroad company will reach $60,000 or $80,000.

A LITTLE BUCKEYE ROMANCE. Miss Myroum Owen, of East Liverpool,

Weds a Californian. PECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. EAST LIVERPOOL, April 1.-About three months ago Miss Myreum Owen received a copy of a matrimonial paper. She is a very pretty English girl-a decided blonde-who has lived in this city since she came to this country with her parents nine years ago, and has been ompelled to do this work, but because she was an independent girl preferred to earn the money she spent on her clothes. She always dressed neatly, and while she had many ad-mirers none of them found favor in her eyes.

In this paper was an advertisement: "Correspondent wanted with a view to matrimony," from a California fruit grower and ranchman, which she auswered. Correspondence was opened and soon photographs were exchanged. The young man meant business and offered to The young man meant business and offered to make the young lady his wife. She declined to make an engagement unless she bould see him, and wrote that if he wished to make the trip to East Liverpool, and she liked him, she would be his wife. He came on the next week, and for just a month to-day Mr. Lorenzo M. Seavy has been wooing Miss Owen at their home in this city. To-day they were married by Rev. John Williams, of whose church the bride was a member.

by Rev. John Williams, or bride was a member. Since Mr. Scavy came here a month ago the brothers of the young lady have made a rigid examination of bankers and neighbors of the groom, unknown to him, and the reports are all groom, unknown to him, and the reports are all california. dustrious, and bears a good name in California, which has been his home for H years. His former,home was in Maine, and the same good former, home was in Maine, and the same good report comes from there concerning the young man. Miss Owen's brothers did not encourage the match, and her parents would rather she had found someone nearer home, but the young lady was persistent, and as no objections could be found to the young man, either as to character or his financial standing, as he owns a fine ranch and is building a luxurious home, all objections were withdrawn, and this afternoon the happy couple left for San Francisco, and thence to Mr. Seavy's country home, about 50 miles distant. Almost a hundred of Miss Owens' friends gathered at the station to Miss Owens' friends gathered at the station to bid her good by and wish her good luck.

IRON WORKS BURNED.

Two Promising Youngstown Establishments Attacked by the Finnes. SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH A

Youngsrown, April L-At 7 o'clock this ning fire broke out in the extensive Glencoe Iron Works of Arms, Bell & Co. and spread with such rapidity as to baffle the efforts of the fire department. By reason of the greasy machinery the flames spread through the building and in half an hour the entire plant was in and in half an hour the entire plant was in ruins. The flames then communicated to the iron works of Brown, Bonnell & Co., destroying one of their warehouses and an engine house, when the firemen succeeded in checking them. The loss to Arms, Bell & Co. will reach 550,000, with insurance amounting to $42,500, in the following companies: Royal, $5,000; London and Laucashire, $5,000; Rhode Island Underwriters, $2,000; Orient, of Hartford, $2,500; London Phalladelphia, $2,500; Phoenix, of Brooklyn, $2,500; Lancashire, $5,000; Springfield, of Massachusetts, $2,500; Continental, of New York, chusetts, $2,500: Continental, of New York, $1,250; Ætna, $2,500; Hartford, $1,250; Fre Association of Philadelphia, $2,500; Richland Mutual, $2,760.

The fire started in the blacksmith shop, and throws 300 men out of employment. The company was extensive manufacturers of nuts and belts. The loss to Brown, Bonnell & Co. will reach $10,000, fully covered by insurance.

The License Court in Fayette.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 UNIONTOWN, April L-Judge Ewing heard then adjourned court until Monday morning. then adjourned court until Monday morning, when he will announce his decisions. He cautioned some of the dealers against having back rooms, and allowing noisy demonstrations about the bars, but indicated nothing as to who would be the incky ones. No new hotel licenses will be granted in Connellsville, the Judge announcing that he would adhere to the decision he formed in this matter last year. Indications are not good for new licenses elsewhere in the county.

Wind Scares a Congregation. PAPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. 1 BURGETTSTOWN, April I .- A terrific wind storm passed over this place last evening, dostorm passed over this place last evening, do-ing considerable damage to property. At the Presbyterian Church evening services were in progress when the storm came up, and several windows were blown in, the broken glass flying half way across the room. A number of those present became alarmed and fled from the building, fearing that the church would be blown down.

He Fell on a Broomstick. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. NEW CASTLE, April I-Willie Atkinson, a 12-year-old son of Charles Atkinson, of West New Castle, while playing with some companions last evening, endeavored to jump over a broomstick. His toe caught on the stick, which was thrown some distance in front of him, sticking in the mud in an upright position. The boy fell on the stick, tearing a hole in his abdomen. He will fie.

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. HUNTINGDON, April 1.-The tannery of olin Johnston, located at Grafton, this county, contents, including 100 finished calf-skins and a large quantity of hides. The fire was of incendiary origin, and was started in several surrounding hay-stacks. Loss, $3,600; insurance, $1,000. was destroyed by fire this morning, with all its REUBEN BARBER, 15 years of age, looked into the muzzle of a Flobert rifle, at Beaver Saturday afternoon, and, not knowing that it was loaded, snapped the trigger. The ball strack him under the eye, severing an artery, and is believed to be imbedded in the check. THE railroad ticket office of the Cincinnati Hamilton and Dayton road, at Wyoming, O., was burglarized Sunday night and $400 in money taken. The agent had sold a number of commuters' tickets on Saturday, and it is evi-dent the thieves had that in mind in selecting the time for their visit.

MILTON LINGER, a Finn, employed at the warehouse of Brown, Bonnell & Co., at Youngstown, was found early yesterday morning lying unconscious in a cellar, near his bearding house, with his pockets rifled. He was taken to the hospital, where he died at noon without gaining consciousness. His skull was fractured and otther marks of violence were found on his person.

FAR WORSE THAN BALAKLAVA.

One of the Immortal Six Hundred Who Also Fought in the Civil War. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

BOSTON, April 1 .- Hiram Williamson, who has just been appointed chief porter at the Boston postoffice, was one of the immortal 600 who rode into the "Valley of clasp medals presented by Victoria, at Hyde Park, to the returned Crimean solders, with her likeness in base relief on one heart and the word "Victoria" below and "Crimea" above, while on the four bars that in part form the cover are the historic siege and battle names of Alma, Inkermann, Balaklava and Sebastopol.

In 1859, in company with a soldier comrade, Mr. Williamson came to this country, both enlisted in the First Regiment, Massa-chusetts Volunteers. His companion was killed at the battle of Glendale, Mr. Williamson remaining in the service till mustered out, a period of three years and three months. In point of valor displayed and loss sustained he places the charge at Balaklava below that witnessed in many engagements of the Civil War. In all his army perils he speaks of being conscious of greater personal dauger at a short, fierce fight at Yorktown, which resulted in the capture of a rebel battery, than at any other time during his ten years' service on two continents. Mr. Williamson is now 70

MICHIGAN IS REPUBLICAN.

But a Democratic Lady Wine the Election

April 1.-The election in Michigan to-day was for a Justice of the 10 A/M. Friends of the family are respectfully Supreme Court and two Regents of the State University. Two Constitutional amendments were also submitted-one increasing the salary of the Governor from $1,000 to $4,000, and the other enabling corporations to continue their existence without reorganizing at the end of 50 years, as is now required. The returns received are fragmentary, but indicate the election of C. B. Grant, Republican, for Supreme Justice by a safe majority.

The remainder of the Republican ticket is doubtless elected and both amendments have been carried. The vote was light. In this city the ladies exercised the electoral privilege for the first time, voting for school inspectors, and electing one of their sex, who was indorsed by the Democrats.

"Used Up,"

"Tired Out," "No Energy," and similar expressions, whenever heard, indicate a lack of vital force, which, if not remedied in time, may lead to complete physical and nervous prostration. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to vitalize the blood, build up the tissues, and make the weak strong.

"For nearly three months I was confined to the house. One of the most celebrated physicians of Philadelphia failed to discover the cause of my trouble or afford relief. I continued in a bad way until about a month ago when I began to take Ayer's Sarsapa-rilla. It acted like a charm. I have gained flesh and strength and feel ever so much better.
